Ohio Migration Anthology

“Far From Their Eyes,” but close to our hearts. Volume One of the Ohio Migration Anthology introduces readers to men who organized for liberty inside ICE jails; a descendent of the Great Migration; and poetry, essays, short stories, and visual art by Ohioans born in other lands. In a review for ArtsFuse, Marina Manoukian writes: “In another world, these stories may not have found a place among one another.... To read about the movement of others isn’t about preparing for the inevitable — it’s about finding the intersections that inevitably remake us all.”

The anthology is a thoughtful, unique, and impactful gift for anyone in your life. All proceeds go to the contributors and two charities, Ohio Center for Strategic Immigration Litigation & Outreach (OCSILiO) and the Cleveland Association of Black Storytellers (CABS). Pick up your copy here.

The companion Reflection and Creation Guide includes prompts for creating your own works of art. Everyone with a connection to Ohio and to migration of any kind are invited to submit their work for consideration for Volume 2, coming in 2023. See www.ohioimmigrant.org for more.

IRTF Fair Trade

Want to help build a world where people work for themselves, and do not have to be dependent on the dominant economic model that perpetuates inequality and exploitation of people and the environment? A world where self-determination, gender equality, transparency, and democratic organization are respected, uplifted, protected, and the norm?

From November 19 through December 17, the InterReligious Task Force on Central America and Colombia (IRTF) is selling fair trade products, such as jewelry and coffee, at Greater Cleveland festivals and pop-up shops as well as at the IRTF open house. Formed as a nonviolent response to the 1980 murders of two Ohio women in El Salvador, IRTF is living out the legacy of Sister Dorothy Kazel, Jean Donovan, and the Maryknoll Sisters martyred there by “standing in solidarity with oppressed peoples as they struggle for peace, dignity and justice.” See <https://www.irtfcleveland.org/>.

NDLON

Manual labor IS skilled labor! Say it loud and wear it proud with the new National Day Laborer Organizing Network sweatshirt, a collab with Suay Sew Shop.

The other connection NDLON and Suay Sew Shop share is in living their values. Suay is “pioneering the clean up economy.” Its products are “created from a combination of post-consumer waste, deadstock and domestically, [and] organically grown fibers. Suay has continued to support garment workers' rights and policy reform for fair wages, highlighting the numerous systemic injustices within the fashion industry.”

NDLON works to improve “the lives of day laborers, migrants and low-wage workers... building leadership and power among those facing injustice so they can challenge inequality and expand labor, civil and political rights for all.” See <https://ndlon.org/>.
